STUDY ABROAD IN

IRELAND

WHY IRELAND WITH ARCADIA ABROAD?

Do you want to do more than just scratch the surface of an Irish experience through study abroad? Ireland is a fascinating island, rich in culture, arts and language, full of dramatic landscapes, and famous for its warm, funny, sharp and friendly people. Even going from boom to bust, from a homogenous to a multicultural society and from an inward to an open, modern economy, this country has kept its strong sense of community and its focus on caring for each other as the foundation of its society's well-being.

Arcadia's approach in Ireland uses this sense of community to explore the many facets of life in Ireland today and what it means to be Irish – which you can then use to explore your own identity and direction. Our staff in the Arcadia Dublin Center support all our students on the island, working with you and our partner institutions to ensure you get the most out of your time here academically, personally, socially and culturally – learn outside the classroom in Ireland with the Arcadia community of staff and students.

Dublin – The thriving, multicultural capital city is a hub of activity, with half of its population under 30 and students from all over the world. It is brimming with curious things to see and do. It also has easy transport links to the rest of the country and Europe.

Maynooth – A friendly college town outside Dublin, Maynooth has a relaxed and welcoming atmosphere, where students integrate easily with locals.

Cork – As Ireland's second city, Cork offers an exciting, eclectic arts and music scene that attracts people from all over the world. Nestled on the south coast, the city is surrounded by stunning scenery with many outdoor attractions.

Galway – This popular, charming city is bursting with artists, writers, musicians and Irish-speaking storytellers, offering a culturally-rich, unique setting and gorgeous west coast scenery.

Belfast – Northern Ireland's largest city embraces a mix of cultural traditions and is accompanied by beautiful landscapes and warm, quick-witted locals.

Limerick – Set on the banks of the River Shannon on Ireland's west coast, Limerick is a treasure trove of historical interest and beautiful scenery.

Ballyvaughan – This idyllic village on Ireland's west coast sits in the magnificent Burren landscape and offers artistic inspiration, a close-knit community and outdoor exploration.

Derry/Londonderry – Located in Northern Ireland, and bordering the Republic of Ireland, Derry/Londonderry is seen as one of the most divided cities on the island. This is due to the many years of difference in politics, religion and historical beliefs.

LEARN EVERYWHERE.

Beyond the Classroom

We want you to learn as much outside the classroom
as possible in different ways.

Site Visits

Put your coursework in context – be it visiting a start-up business as you study entrepreneurship or by exploring historical sites to better understand their significance.

Volunteering/Service Learning

Our center staff can show you many ways in which you can engage meaningfully with charitable organizations and the local communities to give back in some small way.

Events & Activities

Sometimes all it takes to make friends or feel involved is a social event such as learning the skills of Gaelic Games (football and hurling) and later joining a local University club team. Guest speaker appearances and pub discussions are always popular options.

Self-exploration

Our staff are on-hand to offer advice, ideas and support for your own journeys, activities and adventures outside the classroom in Ireland or beyond.

Excursions

From breathtaking coastlines, castles, surfing, Irish music and dance, and Gaelic Games to modern multicultural communities, an edgy, creative music and arts scene and an open international outlook – Ireland has many facets for you to explore. Our excursions range from those included as part of your course, to creative, off-the-beaten track experiences you wouldn't find on your own. Excursions from Arcadia and our partner institutions help you connect with this dynamic little island.

University College Cork

As Ireland's second city and arguably 'foodie capital', Cork offers a unique blend of independent thinking, vibrant city life and stunning surrounding scenery.

University College Cork (UCC) has a very strong school spirit and ties to the local community through projects, activities, music and coursework, so you'll easily feel part of the Arcadia community in Ireland and your local area, both on and off-campus.

Nine months abroad might sound daunting, and it might not be the right choice for everyone, but I am so thankful I took the chance on it. I'm prepared to begin senior year at home with a renewed perspective and a gratefulness that I didn't have before.”
